In this little town lives a kitten named Cookie, his big brother Pudding and their little sister Candy. Lots of other kittens live here too – Cookie, Candy and Pudding.

kitty cats - a picnic

It was a lovely day so mommy and daddy decided to take Cookie, Candy and Pudding on a picnic. The kitty cats packed all the important stuff they would need.

I'm gonna make so many sandcastles. I'm going to try to pull off some extreme outdoor reading. I'm going to run around.

Look at that, so much yummy stuff to eat. A picnic's just not a picnic without a basket full of yummy.

Make sure we didn't forget anything - Cookie and you Candy and Pudding. It's picnic time.

Oh this is beautiful, well what are we waiting for, let's picnic. Hold on where'd our picnic basket go?

Well I don't know, It could still be at home I guess or it could be that we lost it.

Oh no not our basket of yummy.

Hey why don't we just take a rocket jack back home grab the yummy basket and right back.

Nice idea but Cookie rockets can't land if there's lots of trees around.

Then why don't we just order a pizza mom.

Oh, Candy the pizza guy can't deliver a pizza to the address somewhere in the woods kind of near that pond thing, but I'm sure that your very clever father can come up with something.

Uh, hey a fishing rod i can catch you something yummy.

While mommy and Candy look for branches and sticks to make a fire, daddy, Cookie and Pudding had a go at fishing.

Where are the fish daddy where, where?

Fishing is all about patience.

Oh...

Daddy, Cookie and Pudding were patient, but the forest pond just didn't have any fish in it.

We have enough wood for a nice fire.

All we caught was a cheeky frog and even he jumped back in the pond.

What if we all hunt for something to eat over there in the woods.

Mom's got the right idea daddy, you start the fire while we go look for mushrooms All right follow me.

Well i guess we gotta eat something. Pudding used his fungus guide to check which mushrooms were safe to eat and which were poisonous.

Look at all these mushrooms, let's get these cooking, daddy.

I'm afraid the matches were in the basket with the food.

Oh...

Well there is no way that we're eating raw mushrooms.

We could rub sticks together which is how they made fire in ancient times, that's science.

Excellent thinking, Pudding.

Let's help daddy, we can blow too. We made fire.

Our picnic's officially back on the right track. It looks like the mushrooms are almost done and then for dessert – blueberries, cranberries and raspberries.

It turned out that mommy had secretly picked a whole bunch of berries in the woods. Against all odds it turned out to be a great picnic and the whole family was very happy.
